

ABOUT THE WORKS

THE BESTIARY COLLECTION

Part of VGO EDITIONS

Exhibited at LA CABANA FIRENZE

A family of Monsters, this fascinating collection of total black sculptures is created in collaboration with the greatest Apulian masters of ceramics, the Coli Brothers. The works are inspired by medieval Bestiaries, in a history prior to that of the Renaissance, where ugliness and chaos were part of everyday life. Over time these frightening creatures have become some sort of talismans, capable of protecting those who owned them. Resuming the studies on medieval "GRILLI" we focused on the word "increase" that accompanied these amulets. So we have endowed each of our monsters in our collection with their own values and virtues that increase the potential and abilities of those who rely on them.

ABOUT THE ARTISAN

FRATELLI COLI'

Sometimes it happens that the history of a company is identical to that of a family, and when this happens, we are faced with a solid reality expressed by the territory, linked and generated from an intense tradition that acts as the guardian of a distinguishable quality imprint. The best 'Made in Italy' products are born with this DNA, Fratelli Coli' is the brand that boasts this story, which is common to many parts of the country, representing the path of a family and so many workers from the craftsman of 1650s who created ceramic work while pursuing high quality instinctively. Through the skilled hands of "grandfather Antonio" entire generations of "Codimari" were born, in which he transmitted his passion for the ancient art to his children and grandchildren. Today the company is one of the largest districts of Italian pottery, which is characterized by quality, care and attention to details. The new generations have collected the glove making it more solid and convinced the path shown by the parents. Building on the tradition of production and constant comparison with consumers, the firm offers majolica and terracotta items for food preparation along with their repair service. A world that embraces many spaces of the house with good taste. The indoor and outdoor furnishing lines widen the proposal of Fratelli Coli' in the home environment by wrapping it in a philosophy of life that lends it the pleasure of living in the Mediterranean with taste and grace. Each collection, for the home, office or kitchen, has a story to tell. A story full of fragrances, rhythms and moments that have marked a family lunch, a sunny trip and a healthy life style, magically depicted and repeated through every creation.
